MRS. REMER L. BRADY JR., A RECENT BRIDE

MISS BOWEN BRIDE OF REMER BRADY JR.

Miss Nell Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bowen, of Register, and Remer Brady Jr., son of Mrs. Remer Brady and the late Mr. Brady, were married Sunday morning, July 6, at 10 o'clock in a quiet home ceremony, characterized by dignity and simplicity.

Elder V. P. Agan, pastor of the Statesboro Primitive Baptist church, officiated, using the impressive double-ring ceremony in the presence of the two immediate families. The vows were spoken in the living room before a beautiful arrangement of giant white chrysanthemums and white gladioli flanked by Oregon fern and white burning tapers in cathedral candelabra. The couple was unattended. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a suit of apple green worn with white lace blouse, small white hat trimmed with tiny white flowers, a touch of apple green velvet and veil of matching green. Her other accessories were luggage tan and white, and she wore a white orchid with purple throat. Mrs. Bowen, the bride's mother, wore a brown and white sheer and a purple orchid corsage. Mrs. Brady, mother of the groom, was dressed in an aqua sheer with a purple orchid corsage.

Mr. Brady and his bride left immediately after the ceremony on a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, after which they will make their home on North Main Street, Statesboro.

TILLINGER-SELIGMAN

The marriage of Mrs. Tillie B. Tillinger and A. M. Seligman, son of Mrs. Louis Seligman, is announced by her mother, Mrs. Ida Brown, of Valdosta. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William Lasky, of Coral Gables, Fla. Dr. Samuel Victor, of Waycross, was Mr. Seligman's best man.

The bride wore a navy French suit piped in white, with matching navy accessories. Her hat was an off-the-face sweetheart crown of navy with an embroidered edge veil. She wore a double white orchid corsage. After the ceremony a small reception was held for the immediate family at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Seligman left that evening for a wedding trip to New York. Upon their return they will make their home in Statesboro at 15 Main Street.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Banks and children, Smith and Glenda, have returned from an interesting trip. They visited in Dallas, Texas, for a few days with Mr. Banks' sister, Mrs. O. E. Meadows, and Mr. Meadows, and before returning home they visited the Carlsbad Caverns, New Mexico, El Paso, Mexico, the Petrified Forest, Painted Desert, Grand Canyon and other places of interest. They were away two and a half weeks.

TOBACCO FARMERS!

We Have First Sale on Opening Day Monday, July 21st

And when we start our sale at 8:30 a. m. we will begin our 25th year in the warehouse business in Statesboro. We have seen this market grow from the smallest to the LARGEST TOBACCO MARKET IN GEORGIA. We are proud to have done our part in the building up of this market and hope that our dealings with the tobacco farmers has been such as to merit their confidence.

Again this season we WILL NOT reserve space or "book" tobacco. Our long experience has convinced us that the only fair way to handle tobacco is to place it on the floor in the order it comes in—first come, first served—with no preference or favoritism shown anybody.

We will again operate our five warehouses selling 1,335 piles every day. Open day and night. Pack your tobacco in as large piles as possible up to 300 pounds and have the grade run uniform throughout the pile.

Who Is A Democrat?

OUR WEBSTER'S Unabridged gives two definitions to the chief word above; one is spelled with a capital letter and the other with a lower case.

Spelled with the lower case is the definition, "democrat, one who is an adherent of democracy, or government by the people"; the capitalized word is defined as "a member of the Democratic party."

The last definition is the word which stands prominently before us in the present day political warfare. "Democracy" stands for organization, and loyalty to party. That is the word—and principle—which governs loyal men. No man has a right to call himself a "Democrat" while declaring intention to dissent from the deliberate action and counsel of his party if it does not give him personal satisfaction. An independent—every man has a moral and legal right to follow that attitude—has no right to participate in the deliberations of the Democratic party while holding the mental reservation to disregard its chosen course of action.

In the low words of the Pinellas peninsula, near St. Petersburg, Fla., there is a sort of flat strip of country which was long ago used as a cattle winter range. There assembled during the winter months great flocks of cattle who raised their young and tacitly organized. One master mind, without ostentation, led the flock by common consent. One day we observed a sort of stranger (those familiar with cow usage called him a "heretic") sort of smiling and declared, "This is a 'democrat,' but declined to submit to organized usage—he was not a party adherent—a 'Democrat'—and he thus surrendered his right of association. He was a pathetic personage.

The important word of this moment is spelled with a capital "D," and means party loyalty. Those little "d" fellows who declare their independence and their determination not to follow the party unless it goes in their direction, are no entitled to even participate in the shaping of the course which loyal leaders may decide as the wise and honorable course of action.

"United we stand, divided we fall."

Whence Goes Freedom?

IT WOULD BE IRONIC tragedy if soldiers drafted to fight for freedom in Korea and Europe found on returning to civilian life that, while they were gone, they had been excluded from opportunity to earn a living in most American industries except in condition of their joining and paying tribute to some labor union. Yet that is what is being threatened. To make the irony complete, workers' freedom will be sold out in the name of aiding freedom's defense.

The Wage Stabilization Board, according to Washington grapevine, is about ready to recommend the union shop—requiring compulsory union membership—to settle the steel and two other disputes before it. Such a recommendation, technically not binding but actually having the tremendous weight of government power in a national emergency behind it, would set a pattern that few employees could resist.

The union shop is bad when private groups agree to it voluntarily—and then proceed to enforce it against individuals. It is infinitely worse when a government agency in effect orders such a violation of individual liberty. This is very close to the kind of state tyranny we are arming against. As the late President Roosevelt said in 1941 during the union dispute in the captive coal mines: "The government will never compel this five per cent (of non-union miners) to join the union by a government decree. That would be too much like the Hitler methods to ward labor."

The country faces today exactly what industry and other labor observers feared and warned would happen in the spring of 1951 when union leaders were on strike against wage stabilization. The union bosses demanded that the WSB have a condition of their return to membership on that and other defense agencies. They won; and WSB was delegated the power practically to force a union shop on all major industry.

What Kind Of Memory?

SOMEbody ONCE SAID that "an active forgetter is better than a perpetual memory."

There was a story of the negro farmer who was plowing a mule which ran away at a job with considerable damage to himself and his mule. A passer-by who witnessed the occurrence stopped to comment, and suggested to the negro that the mule was possibly blind. The negro, disoriented, "No, he's not blind, but he just don't give a dam."

In some recent propositions, we are led to wonder if certain people have forgotten, or if they "just don't give a dam." Twenty years ago at this very period, the American nation was laboring to rally from a regime of Republican administration which had continued for the preceding half decade. Banks were busted, and those who had saved in the past were forced to give their savings to place the banks back on the highway. It was a dubious action when the government took over the direction and told business what it should do. That was some twenty years ago.

Whether we like it or not, banks—under government regulation and scrutiny—don't break any more. Democracy took over and declared, "Thus far shall thou go, and no further." We have lost some of our liberties—but we have saved some of our cash under Democratic control. The decision before us at this moment is as to whether we have learned anything and will profit by what we have learned.

Shall we return to those days and principles of broken banks, or shall we stick to the party which has brought us back to safety after a regime of Republicanism.

What Of Eisenhower?

NOW THAT THE Republican party has designated its choice, and has thrust General Eisenhower before the nation as candidate for President, the question to be considered is as to his general fitness for this great responsibility.

What is there about his record besides his military leadership? What does he know about governmental affairs that fit him for the great responsibilities of the office to which he aspires? Is there any matter of state with which he is familiar sufficiently to qualify him?

When you have answered these questions, there is little left to Eisenhower except his broad, smiling—and innocent looking—face. Men to conduct the military affairs of a nation of necessity must have special fitness from experience and study of such matters. Let's admit that Eisenhower is apparently a qualified military authority. But let's consider the multitude of other phases of national concern which must come under the leadership and direction—the guardianship—of the president.

If the Democrats can't offer a better qualified man for president, then it would be justifiable to give the job to Eisenhower, but there is no intelligent reason why a nation should change parties—kick out one group merely for disorganization—at a critical moment like the present.

Eisenhower offers nothing in governmental capacity that is not exceeded by any other possible nominee for the presidency.

VISITING AT ST. SIMONS
A congenial group on vacation at St. Simons for the week are Mr. and Mrs. Don Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brannen, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Waters and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Lanier.

FORMER PASTORS VISIT
Rev. and Mrs. T. L. Harnberger, of St. Petersburg, Fla., who were here for the dedication of the new chapel at Stilson on July 13th, were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson, and have been delightfully entertained by many of their friends. They left on Wednesday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beasley at their home at Stilson before returning to Florida. Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Sneed, who also attended the dedication exercises of the new church at Stilson, visited friends here Sunday.

Some Soil Conservation District News in Bulloch

(By E. T. MULLIS, Soil Conservation Service)

Complete soil and water conservation plans have recently been prepared for J. V. Hardy, Statesboro; D. J. Riggs, J. B. Godbee and Frank L. Adams, West Side; Miss Naomi Harville, Nevils; C. E. Sanders, Stilson; B. F. Deal, Register, and Lehman Franklin, whose farm is in the Middleground community. These farmers are looking and planning ahead for proper land use and treatment, becoming co-operators of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation District, a democratic body of farmers joined together in a co-operative effort to preserve and protect the soil.

Field surveys have already been made on the following farms: Fred Hodges, in Ogeechee community; Larry Smith, Portia; J. V. Hardy, Statesboro, and Brooks Hendrix, of Ogeechee community. Ponds have been completed on the farms of Herbert Marsh of Middleground, and Charlie Nemith, of Statesboro. Preliminary pond surveys have been made by Dr. D. R. Dekle's farm near Register; Pat Brannen's farm near Nevils, and D. N. Shearouse, of Pooler, whose farm is near Stilson.

Bill Bowen has an excellent stand of bahia grass in combination with terrace lespedeza on his farm in the West Side community.

A. P. Murphy, near Clito, reports a bountiful harvest of rice grass seed. He has harvested over a ton of seed per acre on five acres. "Bliss" thinks rice will have a definite place in the winter grazing program. However, this is the first year in this how big a place it will occupy. We do know that it will produce seed.

John Deere Dealer To Announce New Heavy-Duty Tractors

Two new heavy-duty John Deere 2 and 3-plow tractors, successors to Models "A" and "B," will be announced Saturday, July 19, by the Bulloch Tractor Company, 36 West Main Street.

According to the manager of this company, these new tractors feature a host of engineering advancements and major improvements which make them the greatest values ever offered by John Deere. One of the new models will be on display Saturday, July 19, and the company extends a cordial invitation to everyone to stop by and see the new machine.

REGISTER H.D. CLUB

Mrs. Gary Dekle entertained the Register Home Demonstration Club at her home Friday, July 11th, with Mrs. Olliff Dekle as co-hostess. We had as visitors Mrs. R. L. Lanier, Mrs. Robert Lanier and Miss Maude Lanier, of the West Side Club, also Miss Beth Atkins, of Athens. Our preliminary pond surveys have been made by the group singing the club song, "Bless This House." Mrs. Walter Lee gave the devotional and Mrs. Charlie Holland gave a very good report on family life and child development.

The demonstration was on safety, and Mrs. Gary assisted Mrs. Whitehead in giving a demonstration on restoring respiration. Mrs. Whitehead also discussed a county trip to Daytona Beach, Fla. We were fortunate to have Logan Hagan come out and give a demonstration in friends' gardens. The hostesses served delicious refreshments.

Farm Bureau Activities

(By BYRON DYER)

The Sinkhole Farm Bureau turned their meeting Thursday into a song festival, the kind of program all could participate in. To start the program off Douglas Carter, Bulloch county 4-H Club boys talent winner for the past two years and from the Middleground community, did some three solo songs with Miss Ann Bowen and Mrs. Delmas Rushing at the piano. Delmas Rushing Jr. then teamed up with Douglas for a duet. Later Miss Bowen was brought in for a trio. These specialty numbers set the stage and tempo of the entire group for singing. With Mrs. Rushing at the piano and Mrs. G. B. Bowen leading the songs, the group devoted the remainder of the evening to community singing.

The Sinkhole chapter bought a piano not too long ago, and probably will spend right much of their time when together in such programs. During the business part of the meeting it was explained that when the telephone applications for several permits had cleared the Public Service Commission, everything necessary to get ready for bids would be completed and action on the ground should come shortly afterwards. The hearing before the commission is on July 22, and will be completed then unless something causes a delay. All the other requirements for procuring the funds from REA to build the lines and procure exchanges have been met.

The need for the group to turn out and vote on the tobacco referendum Saturday, July 19, was discussed. The proposed reduction of 12 1/2 per cent in acreage for next year was heartily approved by the group. In fact, some of them said it should be reduced by 20 per cent. A. C. Anderson allowed as to how he was so tired of working with tobacco that he was willing for it to be reduced 100 per cent as of right now. The group was asked to be on the lookout for another. From reports this 'dreaded disease has hit a few miles of the county already and is killing lots of hogs and cattle. An outbreak was reported in Florida last year and again this year. Not too much concern was felt for these but it is a nearby county and livestock farmers are worried.

FLORIDA VISITORS

Dependency Status Can Arise Any Time

Atlanta, May 26.—In order to qualify for a dependency allowance, which provides a substantial increase in a serviceman's pay, a parent must be more than 50 percent dependent upon the son, William K. Barrett, director of the State Department of Veterans Service, has announced. He stated that a dependency need not actually exist when the serviceman enters the Armed Forces—it may arise at any time after entry into service.

In determining whether more than 50 percent dependency exists, the merits of each individual case are minutely examined. A serviceman's father may die many months after the son enters service. Until that time the son may not have been contributing any money to his mother's support. The father leaves his widow only partially provided for and there is need for financial support on the part of the son.

A fine point immediately arises as to whether the widow will receive half her support from funds thus left by her late husband, or whether the son will need to contribute more than 50 percent of her support.

In such a case the pay office must determine the mother's recognized standard of living and whether or not her available support is sufficient to cover half or more of her normal expenses.

Barrett invites interested persons to come by the nearest branch office of the State Department of Veterans Service for advice and assistance. The nearest branch office is located at Statesboro. Manager of the office is Philip L. Falligant.

More Eloquent Than Words!

It is true, of course, that a Cadillac owner is proud of everything about his motor car.

But it is also true that he reserves a special place in his heart for the beautiful crest that rides high on the hood.

For here, as only he can fully appreciate, is one of the most wonderful and unique symbols in all the world of manufactured products.

In fact, it seems safe to say that no other mark of identification speaks so clearly or so eloquently of the product that bears it... and of the man who owns it.

It tells, for instance, of magnificent engineering and inspired design—and of experienced craftsmanship and painstaking construction.

It promises mile after mile of superlative motoring enjoyment—and it foretells year after year of dependable and enduring performance.

It proclaims, in short, the Cadillac pledge of quality—that here is an automobile built to the highest standards it is practical to enforce in the production of a motor car.

And, oh, the wonderful things it says about the man behind the wheel!

It reveals, more surely than if the words were spoken, that he is a man of position and achievement in his own private world of affairs.

It attests to the high regard he places on the safety and the comfort of his fellow passengers.

And it says, with unmistakable clarity, that he is a person of discernment and good taste.

Little wonder that the man who owns a Cadillac takes special pride in the beautiful crest that identifies it and adorns it.

The Cadillac crest tells its most eloquent story when it adorns the magnificent car illustrated above. For here is the illustrious eight-passenger Cadillac "TS"—a luxurious, spacious and distinguished that it stands alone among the world's motor cars.

BACKWARD LOOK

TEN YEARS AGO

From Bulloch Times, July 23, 1942

Cars of every model and make—passenger, truck and buses—stood in line before filling stations Tuesday afternoon in final recognition that the gas lid was about to be clamped on.

Talmadge and Arnall, gubernatorial candidates, will visit Statesboro next week, Talmadge on the opening of the tobacco market Tuesday and Arnall to speak in the court house Saturday afternoon.

Announcement is made of the appointment of a five-man naval aviation committee for Statesboro, comprising C. P. Olliff Sr., chairman; Lennie F. Simmons, E. L. Barnes, Remer L. Brady and Gilbert Cone.

Douglas Donaldson, age 45, was found dead in his garage sleeping room about 10 o'clock Tuesday night by T. C. Purvis, who called them on a matter of business.

Short letter was published from a youngster, little known here, who said, "I was born in Statesboro on September 21, 1893, and my name is George Bernard Reese; my father was George Reese, who ran a drug store there; are there any children there who remember my father?"

Eighty-seven out of every 100 vacationers will use their cars, he said, and the average trip will cover 980 miles. He predicted highway travel will leave a total of 3,455,000,000 miles in Georgia, consume about 230,200,000 gallons of gasoline and pay $18,416,000 in state and federal gasoline taxes during the summer season.

"Summer does far more than any other season to prove America lives on wheels," he said. "Summer taxes and travel may leave Mr. and Mrs. Car Owner pretty well knocked out by Labor Day, but the season's activities will mean an estimated $150,000,000 to businessmen in the state."

Adding a somber note, he decried public apathy toward traffic deaths, which he said appear to be mounting
